FRAMEWORK OF THE CON-STITUTION.

Upon Three Articles are All Its Provisions Hang.

"The makers of our Constitution, instructed by the experience, of the Colonies, by the State Constitutions already adopted, and by earlier lessons from British history, found an easy agreement upon the general principle that the judicial power of the United States should be vested in a separate and independent department, writes ex-President Harrison in bis "This Country of Ours" paper in the December Ladies' Home Journal. "The division of powgether the opening sentences of the first an ivory mask, will tremble again on three Articles of the Constitution:

"'Article 1. All Legislative powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States.

"'Article 2. The Executive power shall be vested in a President of the United States of America.

"'Article 3. The Judicial power of the United States shall be vested in one Supreme Court and in such inferior Courts as the Congress may from time to time ordain and establish.'

"Upon this three-fold frame the other provisions of the Constitution are New Discovery is the only thing that hung. The limitations upon the powers of the United States Courts will be I have." J. F. Campbell, merchant of more clearly understood if what has Safford, Ariz., writes: "Dr. King's New been before said in another connection be recalled here-namely, that the powers of Government in this country Consumption, Coughs, and Colds. I are divided between the Nation and the States upon the principle that certain King's New Discovery for Consumption powers are set off to the United States, Coughs and Colds is not an experiment and all other powers, save a few that It has been tried for a quarter of a cenare prohibited, are retained by the States. The Constitution enumerates the powers which the people have given to the Nation. 'The Judicial power of the United States' is, therefore, such power of a judicial nature as the Constitution gives to the United States-no more. The residue of the judicial power the people have reserved in the grant to the United States, and have given the whole, or such part of this reserved power as pleased them to the State Courts."

Electric Bitters.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season but perhaps more gener ally needed when the languid, exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious tevers. No medicine will act more sarely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, Indigestion, Constitution, Dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c. and $1 per bottle at E. T. Whitehead & Co.'s Drug Store.

The New Life.

Durham Sun.

Each day brings tidings of some sudden death. Now it is a girl, young and fair, whose life promised felicity. Again some decrepit man, who saw the infant years of the century. Together of its power that I consider it my duty to they go, young and old, with reluctance or indifference, all into the dimness of the shadows.

"Life is but the gates of death," says T. A. SLOCUM, M. C., 183 Pearl St., New York. Emerson. What more? "Death the development of a higher life." divine analogy, indeed. From death comes life. The rose that gave the withered petal to the autumn zephyr will bloom again. The inarticulate ers will be made plainer by bringing to- music of love's sweet smile, frozen upon lips and eyes of sensibility.

And man-God's noblest work-lays down a ruined organism to acquire a nature adapted to the fullness of a perfeet life. This thought leads to the triumphant exclamation of Paul: 'Oh, grave, where is thy victory; oh, death where is thy sting." Welcome, Death Thrice welcome, Life!

CHILDREN

Dear Sir :- In reply to yours of the 29th inst., I will say that I freely epdorse all you or others have said or could ever say about Johnson's Chili and Fever Tonic. Two month's ago father who is 85 years old, was tricken down with Bilious Fever, and came near dying. I began at once with the Tonic giving him a dose every two hours. I called in our family doctor and told him what I was doing. He said it was the right treatment and advised that I continue it. He cailed again the next day and saw the effect of the Tonic and gave nothing himself. Within a week my father was able to Ly Goldsboro 3 10 8 29 walk about the house.

I persuaded him to take a second bottle and under its use he has grown strong. Although 85 years old on the 24th of last June, he has to-day taken a norseback ride of six miles unattended This is only one of many remarkable cures performed by the Tonic that has come under my personal obsservation in the last, 24 years that I have been selling the Tonic. If this remarkable medicine cost $5 bottle and could only be obtained in London, there would be widespread interest manifested in it and vigorous etforts made to obtain it. But the fact that it sells for 50 cents a bottle and this returned if you are not pleased with the medicine, lead many people to overlook it altogether. I use it in every case in my own famly and in my own immediate influence. Don't think that I have ever been called on to refund the purchase price of a single bottle. Had one customer who came sixteen miles for a bottle last Yours very truly, week. GALATIA, ILLS., Nov. 16, 1385.
